On the winds of time, the deeds, values, and ideas of men, carried from past to present and into the future, gently influence our decisions and desires and become our experiences of today. Certainly a major influence in our lives, the winds of education, blowing so meaningfully through our formulative, high school years, carries experience so valuable that we can never forget them. As the refreshing breezes of a summer evening revive the scorched earth, so the wind of education revives the memory of a cherished time and an honored place.

LETTER FROM THE EDITORS

We, the Editors of the "1963 BOLT", wish to express our appreciation to everyone who helped make this yearbook possible. We would like to thank Powell Studios and Mr. Doug Reynolds for the fine photography work. We would also like to extend our gratitude to Mr. Buck Kinser for his guidance in this annual, to the administration for its co-operation, and to the businesses who advertised herein. We would especially like to thank our advisor, Mr. Tom Burtner, who voluntarily gave so much of his time.

We enjoyed working with the staff very much. We felt it was an honor and privilege to be the editors of this book and we hope that we have successfully fulfilled the responsibilities.

An intregal part of a person's collective education is his high school learning. The winds of time which carry one's fortune and destiny must thus be influenced significantly by the teachers he has had in his youth. Though faces may become obscure with time, one can never completely separate himself from the ideas born in the classroom, for when one accepts an idea, he accepts a priceless and enduring gift.

Class of 1963
Northmont High School

Dear Class Members,

As graduates of Northmont High School you have completed an important phase of your basic education. The lessons you have learned, along with the habits, attitudes, and ideals you have acquired, should serve as a foundation on which each of you build the best possible life. You have acquired the tools for success but the way you use these tools will determine the amount of success you have.

I am sure this edition of the Bolt has brought the satisfaction of accomplishment to each member of your class. In the future it will serve as a treasury of memories. You are to be congradulated for a job well done.

May God be with you.

Sincerely,

Edwin C. Treherne
Superintendent

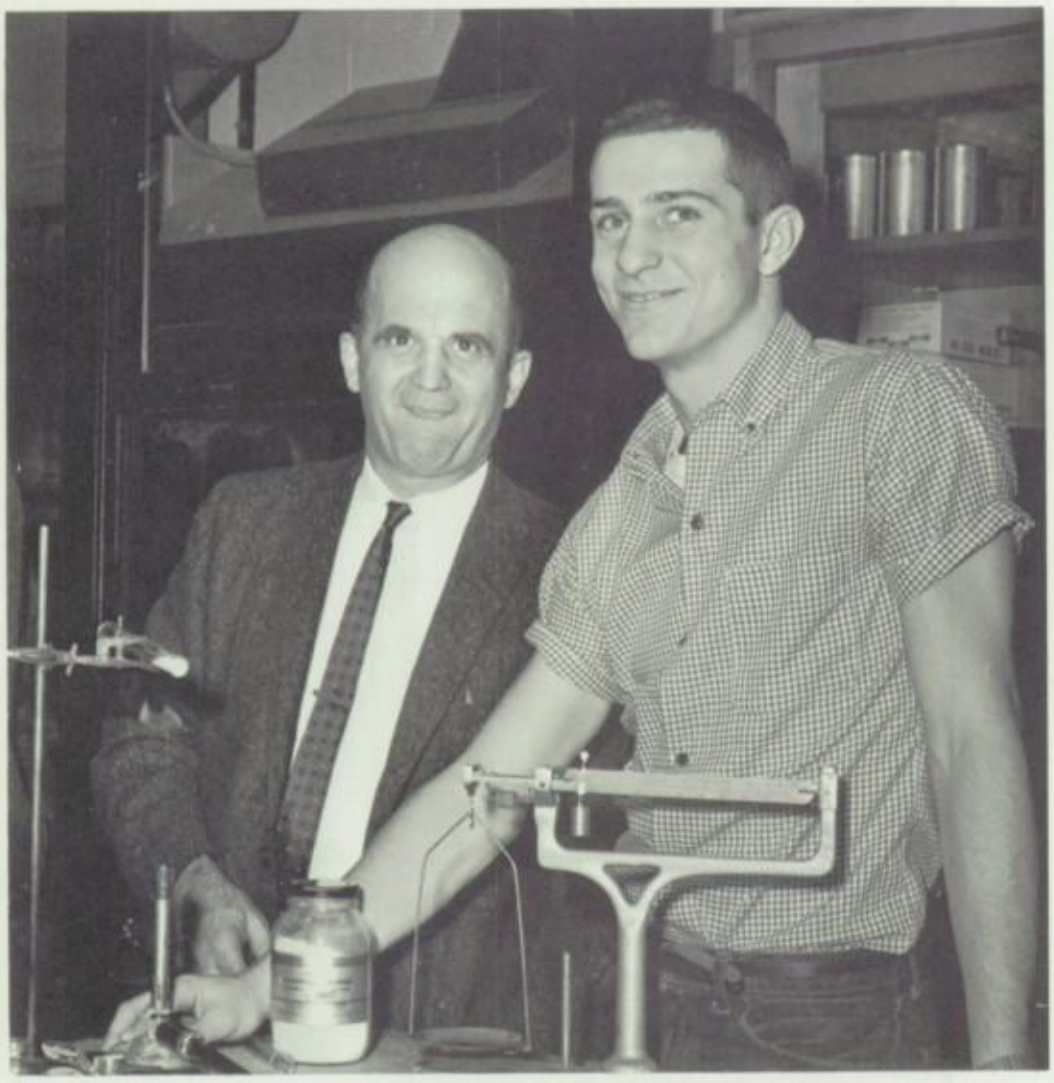
CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES



DIETICIAN : Mrs. Mildred Warner

Because we work hard all morning, when lunch time arrives we are greatful to the cooks. They always manage to prepare nourishing meals which are well-balanced and very tasty.

HEAD CUSTODIAN :

Mr. Maurice McDermott

A "Special Thanks" goes to the men who give special attention to maintaining the school and transporting Northmont's students to and from school.

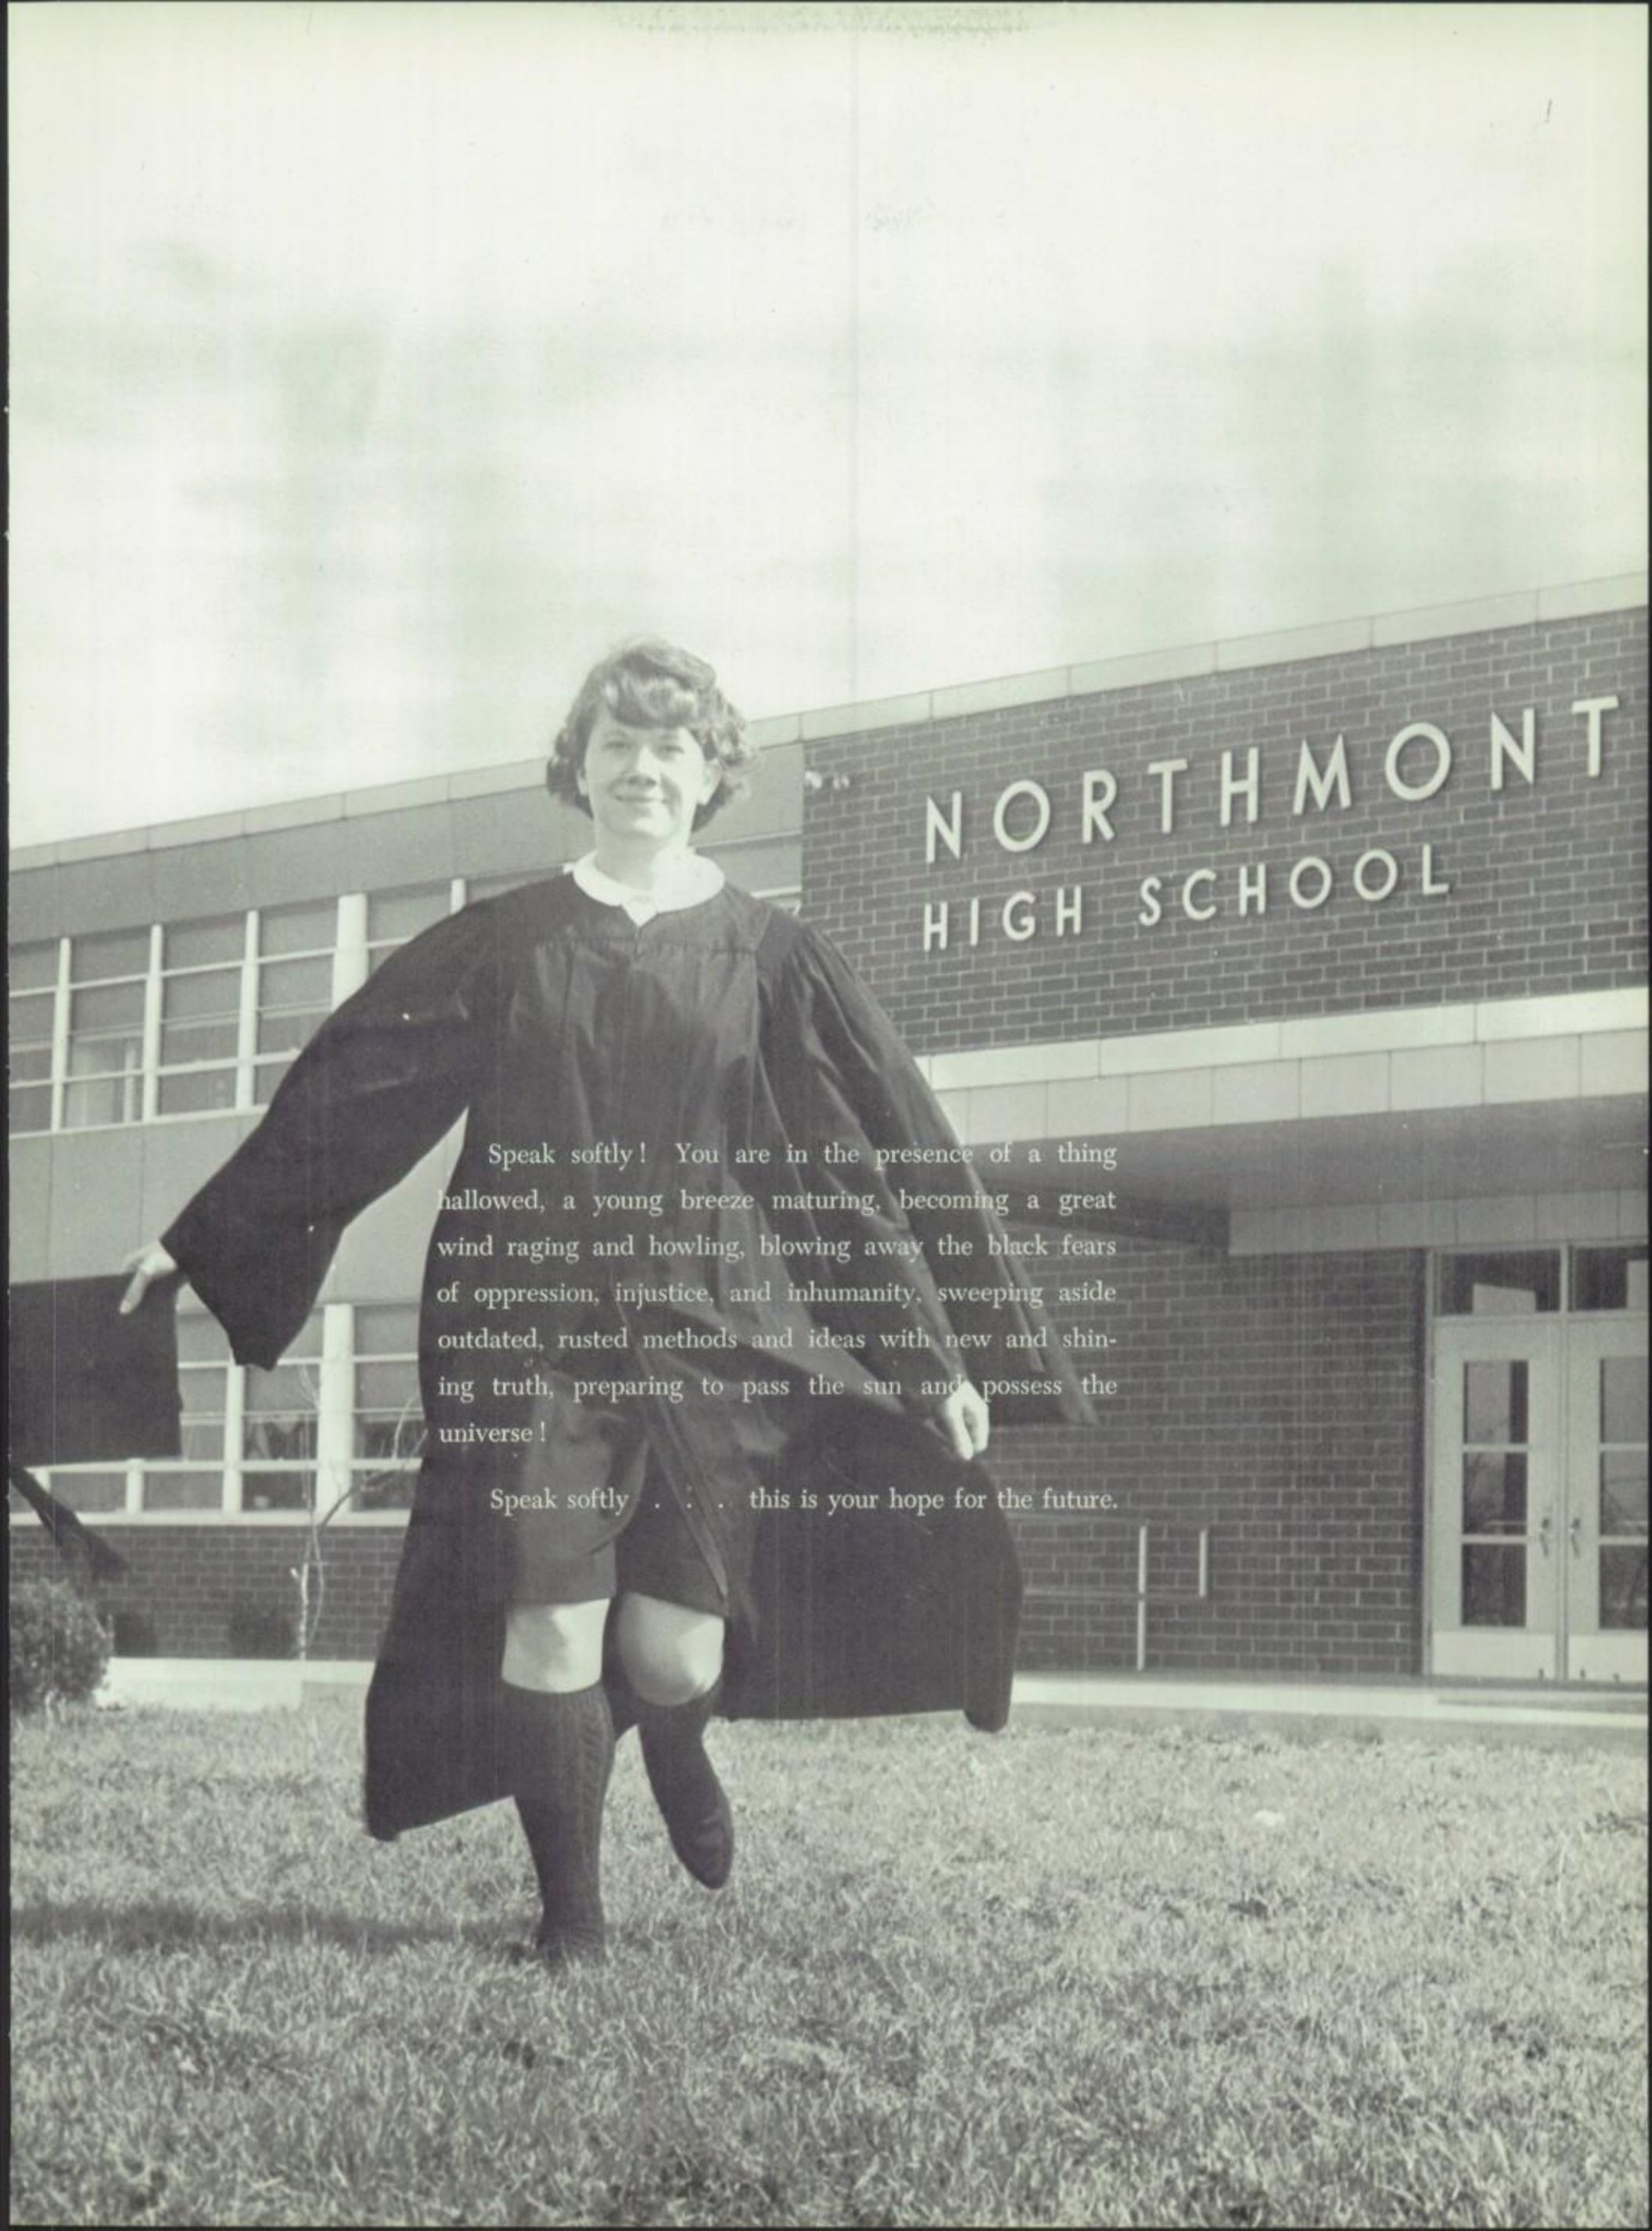
CUSTODIANS: Mr. Jake Hinea & Mr. Harley Carmony.



Speak softly! You are in the presence of a thing hallowed, a young breeze maturing, becoming a great wind raging and howling, blowing away the black fears of oppression, injustice, and inhumanity, sweeping aside outdated, rusted methods and ideas with new and shining truth, preparing to pass the sun and possess the universe!

Speak softly . . . this is your hope for the future.

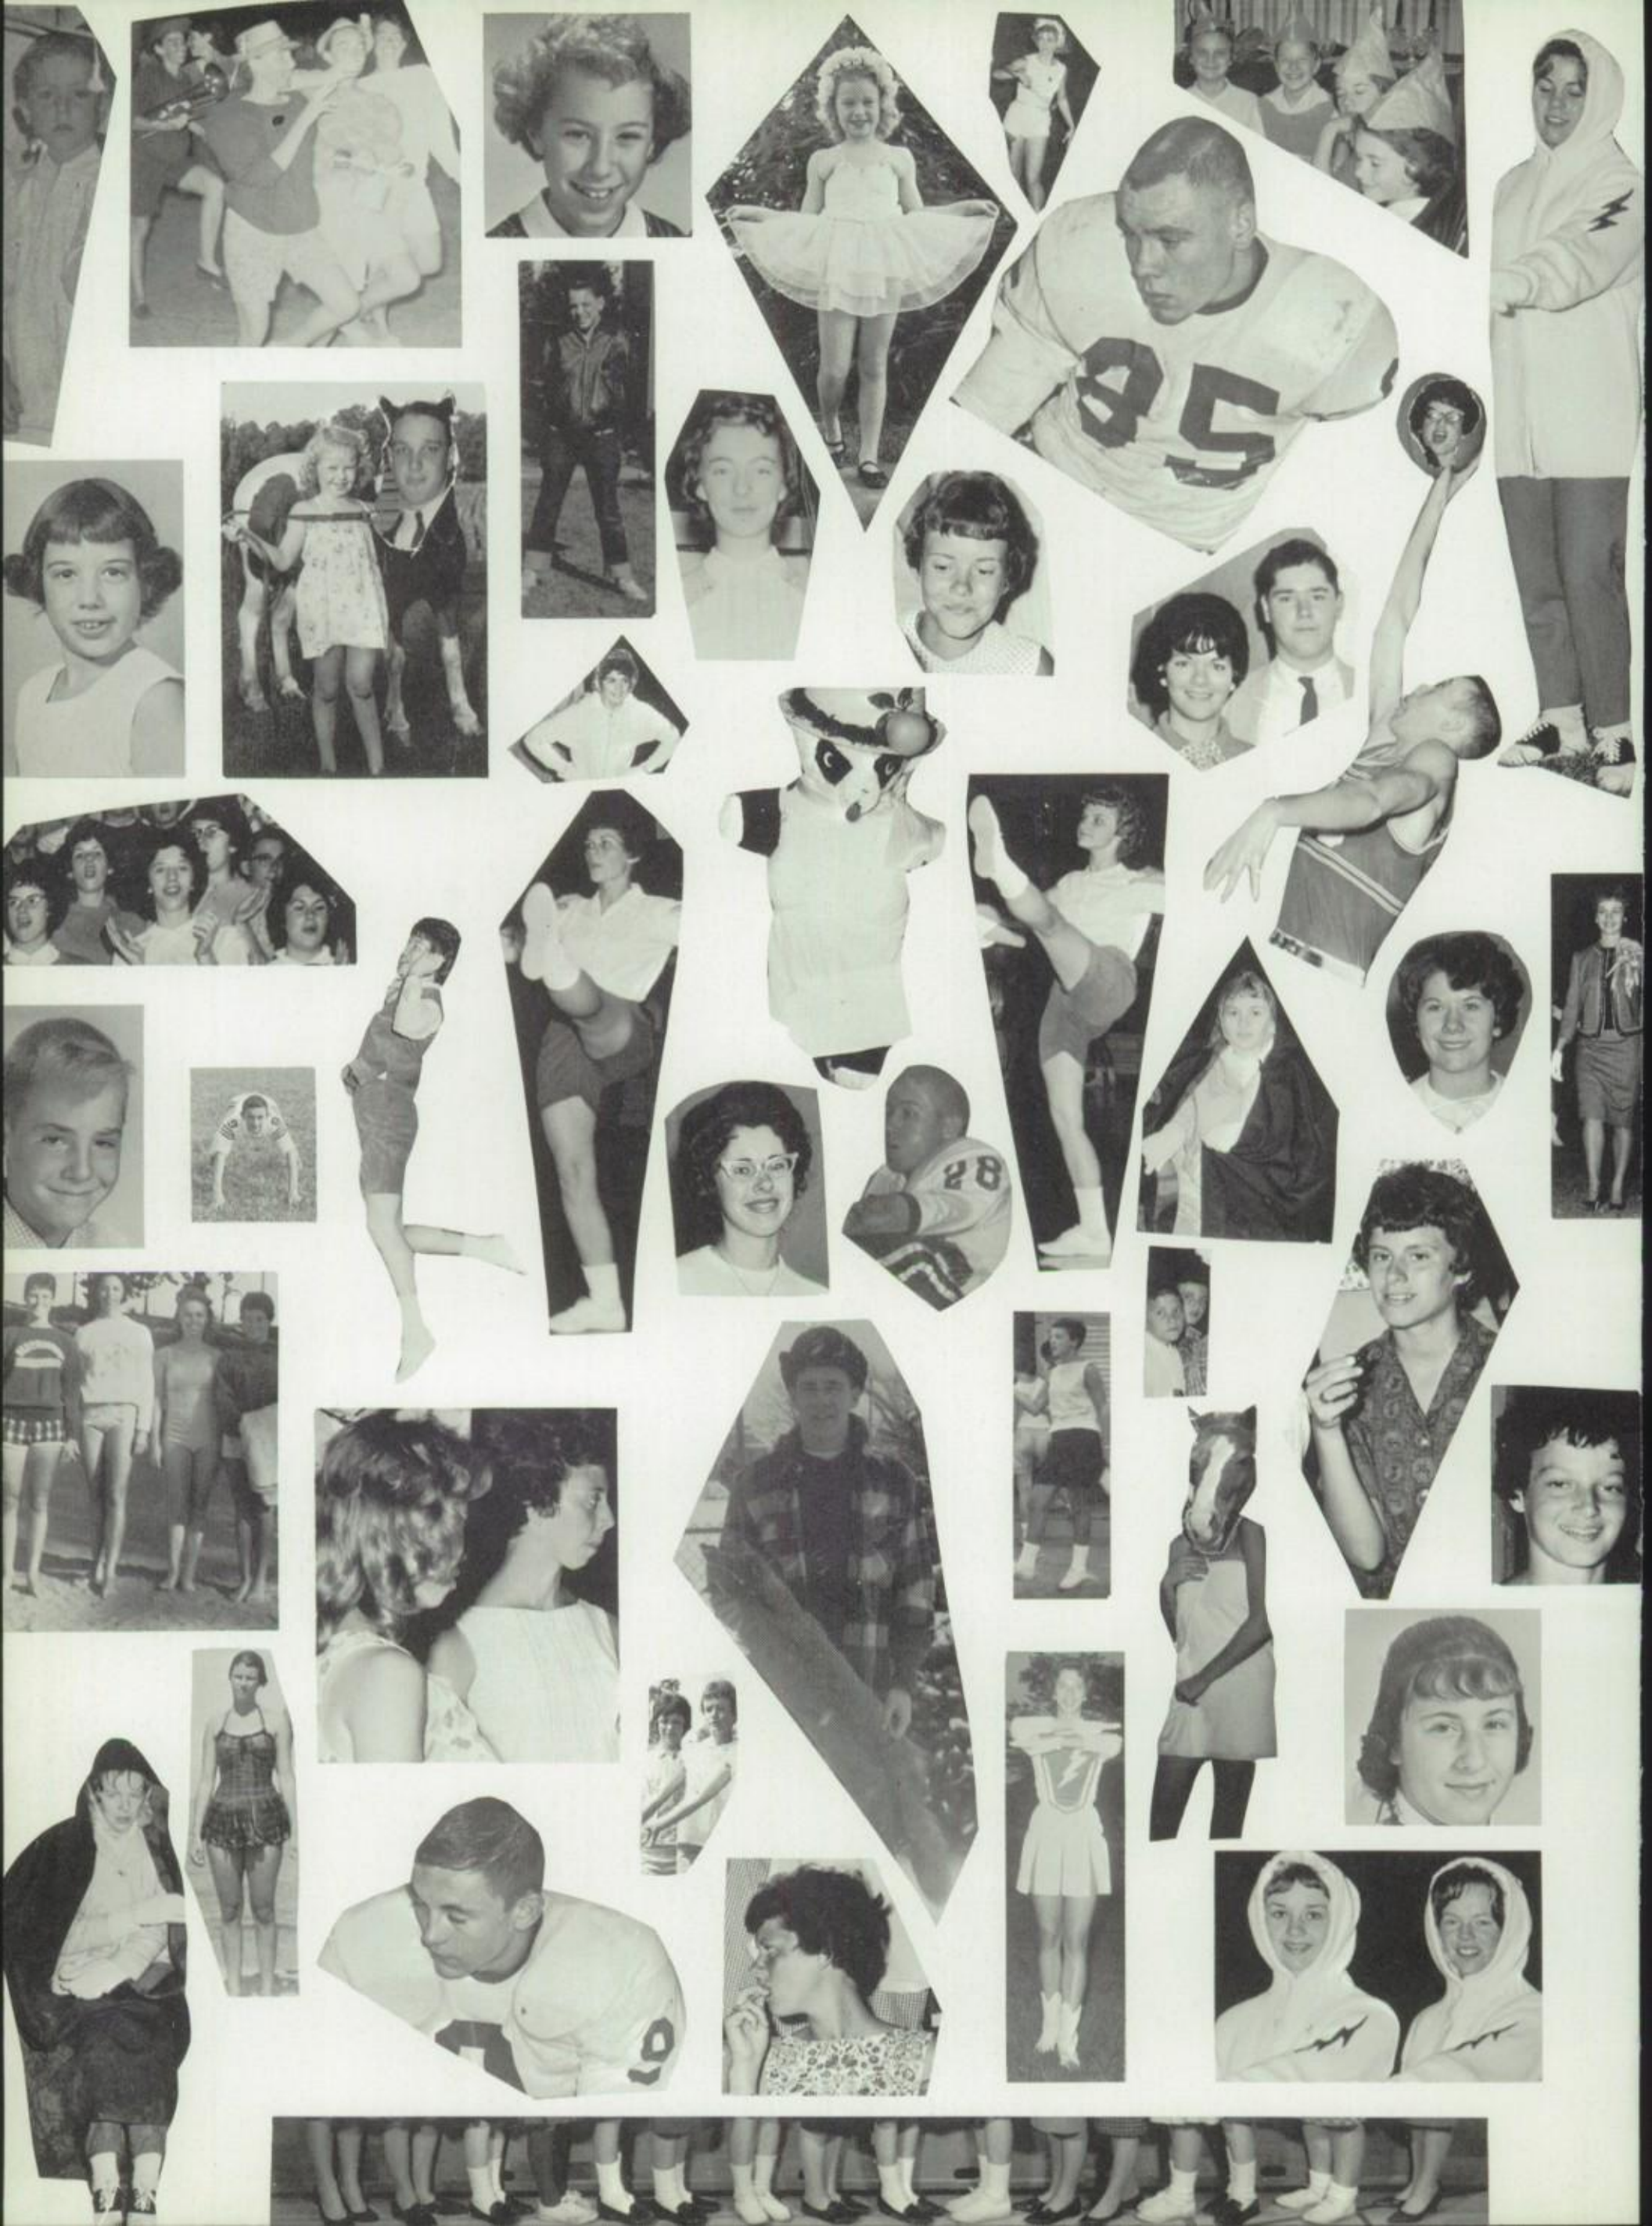
The winds have blown at Northmont for four years. During this time they have fostered the education of this, the graduating class of 1963. The winds, however, have not only brought education, but they have left in their path many fond memories and long-lasting friendships. Although storms have arisen in our high school career, gentle breezes seem to have overcome them all.



For an underclassman, high school is a tall mountain. Struggling patiently upward on the mountain's slope, he pauses momentarily and wistfully gazes at the summit, so impassibly high above him. He feels that perhaps he cannot make it, that perhaps the peak is too far away. Later, as he stands at the moutain's top, thrilling to the sense of new and different winds, and receive the wide expanse of life around him, he knows the toil was worthy of his effort.

Club activities rank high in popularity at Northmont with every interest included from athletic groups to honorary organizations. Pushed along by the winds, the business of the various clubs gains momentum as the year progresses. For every interest there is a club at Northmont, from writing for the school paper to cheering for the teams.

Those clubs, as varied as the winds, produce a certain harmony among the students that adds to the spirit of Northmont. Every student has the opportunity of leadership and can thus develop a responsible attitude toward life. It is in these clubs and organizations that a well-rounded high school education can be attained, for working with and getting along with other people is the basis for a successful life.

A drum roll resounds, and melodies mingle from the throats of the chorus. This is the Music Department of Northmont High School. Carried along by the winds, the notes vibrate through the whole school and leave in their path not only educational value, but beauty and talent.

Beginning with a puff of wind, the marching band and drill team performed in precision as the autumn leaves careened across the football field. The duties of the Music Department were not over, however, even when the winter winds began to blow, for this was only the beginning of work for the chorus, pep band, and concert band. With the onset of the spring breezes came the State Band Contest and the Spring Concert. Even though the school drew to a close, the Music Department labored on with Band Camp as the highlight of the summer. Preparation began for another exciting year.

Our Thunderetts spent many hours learning routines as well as counting yard lines.

The cabin sectional rehearsals and frequent council meetings made band camp a success.

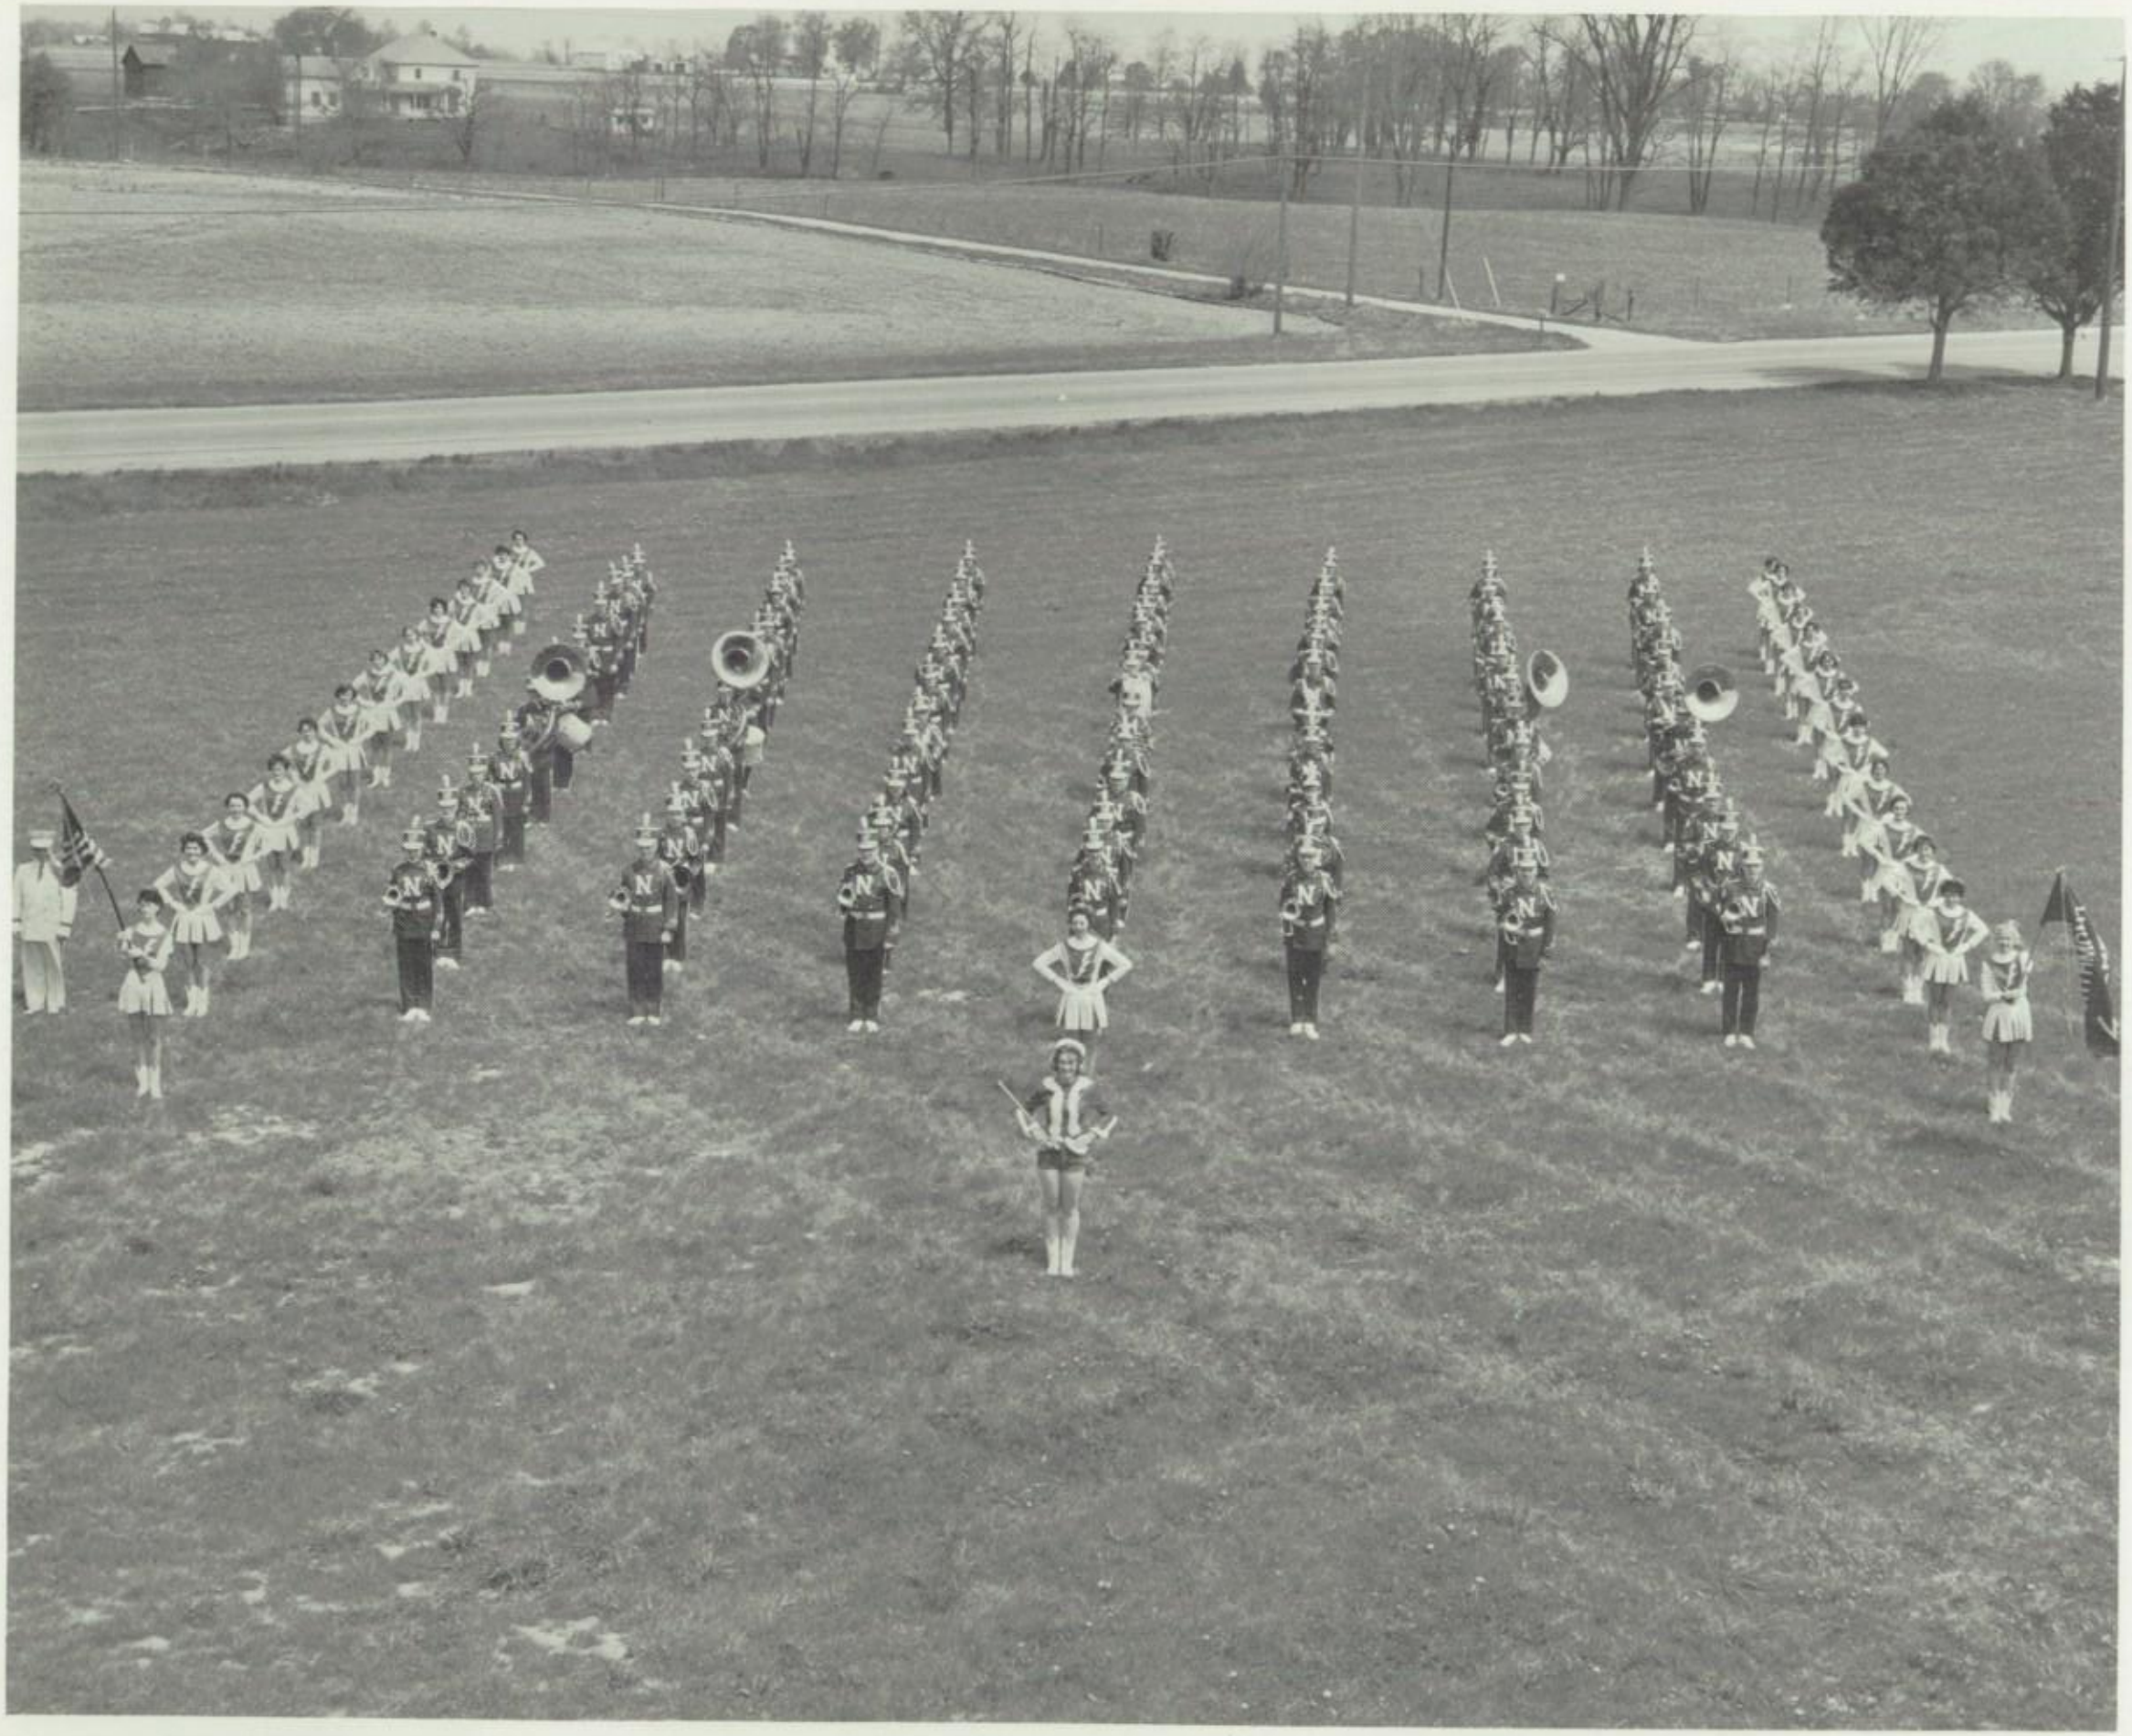
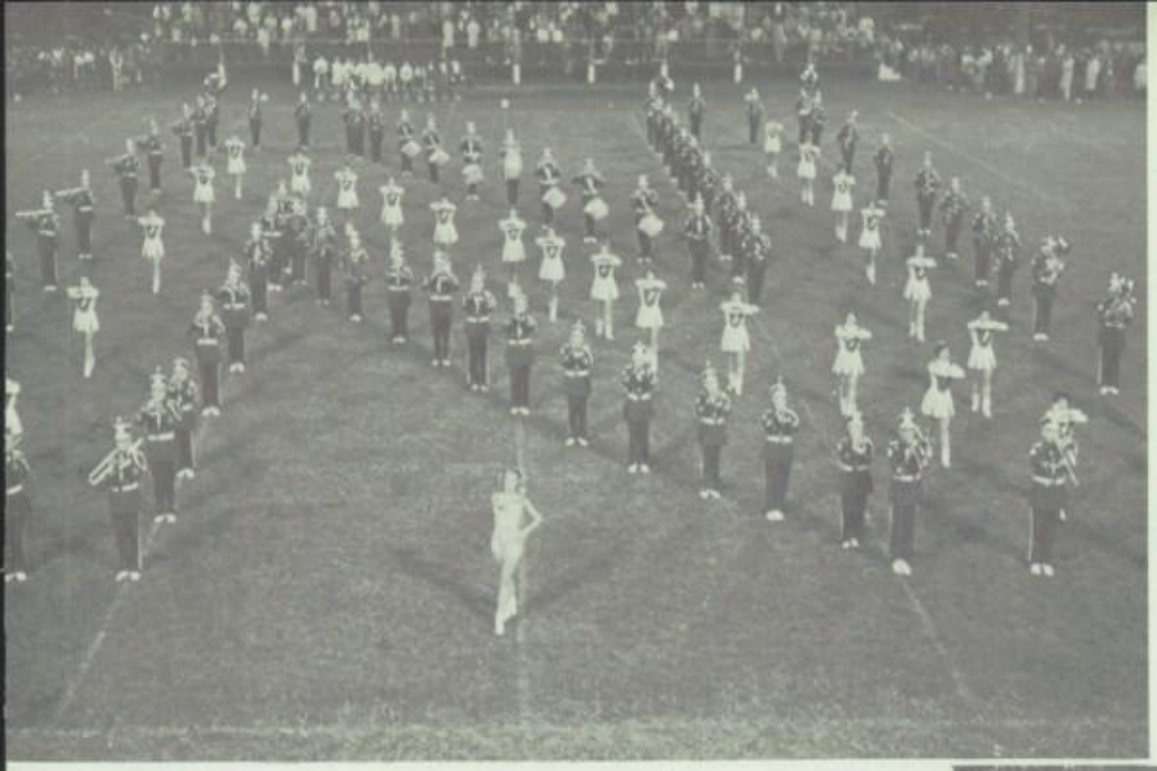
BAND

CAMP

"Your only date is with me and the Band" – these might be the first words you would hear at Band Camp. What they mean is reveille at 6:30, a good, solid breakfast, drill for 2½ hours, concert rehearsal for one hour, lunch, section rehearsal, drill for another hour, FREE TIME, dinner, time for music memorization or special rank drill, films or a dance, lights out at 10:30, and more fun than you have ever had in your life. After five days of Band Camp each member has within him a band spirit of pride, ambition, and determination which spring from our director, Mr. Cool.

One of the most frequent cries from the senior girls' cabin was, "Where's the rubbing alcohol; my legs are killing me!" But in these photos we wish to say "Farewell underclassmen, and we wish you as much fun as we have had at band camp."





THE NORTHMONT "N"

Mr. Cool wrote all the music for our football shows and spent many long nights drawing up formations.

The 101 members of the Northmont Marching Band received second and third trophies at the Fairborn Band Contest.

After five days of memorizing music, marching, and a Thursday night drill, the N.H.S. Band brought football audiences ten unforgettable half-time shows. The Band was lead on the field by 1961 and 1962 State Twirling Champion, and 1962 National Twirling Champion, Barbara Farren, who in one season's time proved herself to be an excellent head majorite. The Drill Team reached its height of precision this year under the leadership of Sandy McDevitt, Drill Team Captain. Congratulations Sandy on your beautiful routines!

The A Cappella Choir is composed of Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors with above average vocal and musical ability. This year the choir was quite busy, opening the school season with its annual Fund Raising Drive. The proceeds from this Drive enabled us to purchase our blazers. Following this Drive we presented an all Vocal Concert, "An Evening with Fred Waring." The choir presented a Christmas Concert with the band and Girls' Glee Club, and then started preparing music for its first tour, March 29, 30, and 31. The tour, which was a huge success, took us to the Cincinnati area where we sang three concerts. The Band, Girls' Glee Club, and the Choir again combined for the annual Spring Concert held May 10.

The winds have blown success to Northmont this year in all the various sports. After endless hours of practice, each team has been rewarded with its victory, and each student has gained his share of pride in our hard working athletes. The victory, however, is not all that matters, for these athletic events promote physical well-being and the most necessary quality of good sportsmanship.

As the winds have continually blown, so has Northmont's sports schedule been constantly busy with activities throughout this entire year. These athletic events have progressed from football, to basketball, and finally to track. Not only these teams, however, have built the spirit of Northmont, for the whole student body has aided in its development and thus participated in the sports program.

No high school curriculum can be complete without social activities, and Northmont has progressed this idea throughout the past year. The winds have fostered numerous activities including Homecoming, dances, the "Guys and Dolls" production, concerts, and the Prom. These social activities promote opportunities for developing the ability to get along with other people, a most important quality necessary for success in life.

An education cannot be well-rounded until the individual has developed social "know how," for it is necessary to live in harmony with people in this world. These social activities at Northmont provide a derivation from the normal school life and assist the students in reaching the goal of maturity.
